DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Iwasaki et al. (U.S. Patent 6,477,038).

As to claims 9, 36, Iwasaki discloses a multilayered printed circuit board (1, figure 2) comprising:

a conductor circuit (7) and a resin insulating layer (11, 12, 8) serially formed on a substrate (10) in an alternate fashion and in repetition; and a solder resist layer (8b, figure 2) formed as an outermost layer contains an elastomer component and at least one resin (12) selected from the group consisting of a thermosetting resin (see column 7, lines 4-6), and said elastomer component (8, 12) is separated in micro-phase as to form an island-in-sea structure after curing in said solder resist layer (the shape of the element 8 and 12) having an island sea structure, wherein said elastomer component is at least one member selected from the group consisting of natural rubber, synthetic rubber, a thermoplastic resin and a thermosetting resin (column 3, lines 58-60).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 32, 34, and 39-40 allowed.

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the reason for allowance has been stated in the previous Office action.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9, 32, 34, 36, and 39-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant argues:

Iwasaki et al. does not specific disclose "a solder resist formed on an outermost layer containing an elastomer component and a resin selected from the group consisting of thermosetting or thermoplastic resin."

Examiner disagrees because as shown in figure 2 of Iwasaki et al., the solder resist (8b) formed on an outermost layer and contained an elastomer component and a resin (12) made by thermosetting resin.

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
